

Jason Matney, MS, PhD

Dr. Jason Matney is a Physicist at Sutter Medical Foundation in Sacramento, California. Formerly, he was a Clinical Assistant Professor at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where he hosted medical physics lectures for UNC radiation oncology residents and North Carolina State University veterinary students. Jason trained at the M.D. Anderson Cancer Center in Houston, Texas and Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. His research interest include respiratory motion management, stereotactic body radiation therapy and surface guided radiation therapy.